

LIVE THE LIFE that's uniquely you.

Dedicated to everything uniquely you.

Be you ... only better.

There's a special energy in Austin that has no age limit, and from the moment you walk into The Pavilion at Great Hills, you'll feel it.

With more of a boutique atmosphere than a typical senior living community, you'll find a place that is bright, individual and intimate, with a bit of a neighborhood vibe. And you'll discover a commitment to helping you create the life that suits you best in the company of people who share your interests, your outlook and your energy.

Behind all of The Pavilion's style there is also a profound commitment to your health, well-being and improvement. It shows in apartments that are a source of comfort and delight and in common spaces perfect for both social and private moments, plus amenities that support you in all the ways that matter. It all adds up to a life you want, with just the right amount of help you need or desire.

More to life.

The Pavilion is more than a senior living community. It's assisted living and memory care as unique as you. It's a family-oriented community that's quaint, intimate and charming with first-class amenities like a salon, fitness center and an art studio, along with services that support independence and are customized to each resident. It's all the comforts, indulgences and fun of a resort.

Be you, only better.

Everything at The Pavilion is here to delight and inspire you at every turn. Maybe it's a creative project in the art studio. Making all the right moves at the fitness center. Bringing out your competitive side with a game of pool or pampering yourself at the salon. We've thought of everything and with a variety of common spaces, a compassionate team and a wellness program that engages you every day, you'll discover just what you need to live a life that is uniquely you.

Thrive with creative wellness.

We understand that just because you may need some assistance with daily tasks or medication management, it doesn't mean you need assistance in being yourself. That's why we fill the calendar with engaging programs, fill your plate with cuisine that suits your tastes and have a holistic wellness philosophy called Salus<sup>TM</sup> that recognizes every side of you — emotional, spiritual, mental and physical — because you experience the world through every side of yourself.

Assisted living for your style.

Because no two people are the same, we customized your support to give you just what you need, when you need it. At the same time, you'll enjoy amazing amenities designed to let you live the life that is uniquely you. Wonderful dining options you won't find in similar communities, a focus on wellness programs that empower you to age successfully and opportunities for fun that include socializing with neighbors you'll love to meet for dinner, join for a movie in the TV lounge or get together with in the outdoor courtyard for a walk.

The Pavilion features Salus™ by Solvere, a wellness philosophy that supports everything you do in a way that helps you achieve the personal goals you've set for yourself. Because Salus is a holistic approach to well-being that's integrated into everything we do, you'll constantly discover special ways to connect with both your neighbors and The Pavilion's team members.

Memory care as unique as you are.

You want your family member or friend living with a memory impairment to live their most active and rewarding life. We understand. Our Valeo™ memory care program is designed to do just that by recognizing and valuing what's unique about every person who lives here, so their care can be as unique as they are. The result is profound: everyone living in The Pavilion's Valeo memory care neighborhood lives with purpose and joy, doing more and cultivating happiness every day.
